and Bank Opposition.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., October 2 .-W. J. Bryan began another day's campaigning at Point Pleasant this morning He left Wheeling shortly after midnight on a special train, accompanied by Governor McCorkie; Congressman McMillin of Tennessee; National Committeeman McGrew, of West Virginia, and a party of State politicians, and reached Point Pleasant at 6 o'clock. Hastily dressing and buttoning his overcoat about his throat, Mr. Bryan went out on the platform and made a short speech to about a thousand people who were present,

A reception committee of thirty-five from Charleston, headed by ex-Governor Wilson, boarded the train at Red House. There was a big crowd there, but its cheering was not sufficient to awaken Mr. Bryan, who had gone to his berth soon after leaving Point Pleasant.

Charleston gave Mr. Bryan a hearty M., and was greeted by a big assemblage at the rather d station. A long proces-sion escerted the candidate through the streets and to the City Park, where he

Ten thousand people composed the audience that heard the candidate here. His reception was of the heartlest sort. Mr.

Bryan said in part: "Ladies and Gentlemen,—In this capital of West Virginia I desire to express tal of west virginal I desire to express my thanks for the very cordial welcome which has been extended to me by the members of the Triple Alliance. GOLD-BUG DECEPTION

"You talk to Republicans about the gold standard, and they will tell you they are as good friends of the gold standard as anybody, and yet when they come to got out their badges, when they come to get out their badges, when they come to print the name of their candidate on gaper, they, by some strange circumstance, select yellow paper to print it on (Cheers and laughter.) Another thing; you cannot find any club among the Republicans which is called a gold-standard club. What do you find? Sound-noney clubs. (Cheers.) Now, why do hey use 'sound money' instead of 'gold'? Because they dare not tell the people use they dare not tell the people they mean by the term. They are using these words to deceive you.

My friends, everybody wants sound noney, but the question is, What is bound money? I will tell you what I inderstand sound money to be. Sound sound money? I will tell you what I will be elected. Suppose he tried to feed himself on meat of the highest quality, but so insufficient in quantity that he would die for lack of nourishment. Would you call that sound food? Not a bit of it. (Applause.) And yet our opponents are trying to build up a financial system on gold alone, when they are not able to find the gold to furnish the basis of their system. The gold standard is of no advantage, unless you can find enough gold to furnish the standard money. Our opponents have not furnished that gold. They cannot furnished that gold. They cannot furnish it. All over the world to-day the nations are scrambling world to-day the nations are scrambling

SUPPLY OF GOLD

(A voice: "There's only $1,000,000,000.")
Mr. Bryan: Fourteen billions? Only $4,000,000,000, my friend (applause). If the statistics furnished by the Treasury Department are correct. But, if the statistics furnished by other nations in redistinct furnished by other ballons in regard to the supply of gold are as decentive as the statistics furnished in regard to this nation's supply of gold-instead of there being $1,000,000,000 of gold in the world, there are not $5,000,000,000. (Applause.) In order to make up the $4,000,000,000 they give this nation more than $600,000,000. It is not here. The Treasure statistics on it is not here. sury statistics say it is, but if you at-tempt to find it, you find that there is some in the vaults at Washington, some in the national and State banks, and then when you have added this store of gold all together, you have only a little more than one half of the estimated more than one half of the estimates amount of gold in this country. And when you ask them where is the rest of their gold, they tell you that that is what is known as the invisible supply of gold. (Laughter.) When they talk about the invisible supply of gold they tall about a supply which cannot be seen about a supply which cannot be seen, because invisible means not seen; and I will tell you that this invisible supply of gold is getting to be more and more in-sons which may explain the fact that our opponents do not propose a financial system to the American people. In the first place, they may not know what is best. If our apponents do not know what kind of a system is good for us, then, if we follow them, it will be the blind leading the blind. If, on the other hand, our opponents say they know what ought to be done, then we ask why they don't tell the people what they know. (Applause.) Our opponents can only excuse them-selves on one of two grounds—their failure to elaborate a financial system mus (Great cheering.)

BANKS IN POLITICS.

Mr. Bryan spoke of bankers who grew into politics, let them beware of the re-sults that may follow political banking. If they train to be business-men, and run their business on business principles, they must not come 'nto the field of politics and attempt to run politics. (Applause.) CINCINNATI AND COVINGTON. CINCINNATI, October 2.—For a man about whose physical condition his friends are getting solicitous, the work laid out for William J. Bryan in Cincinnati, and to-night, was not of that easy sort that might be expected of an overworked man Up at 6 A. M., after a few hours of sleep, Mr. Bryan had twelve hours of speech-making and railroad travel be-fore he reached this city. When he die arrive, at 6:20, he was escorted by the Duckworth Club and other political organizations from the station to the Gib-son House. A hasty supper and a quick son House. A hasty supper and a quice change of clothing, and the candidate was taken to Music Hall, under the escort of the Duckworth Club. Here he was down for a speech, but it was not the only one to which Cincinnati expected to listen. No less than four speeches-three in Cu cinnati and one in Covington, were wanted of Mr. Bryan. He talked so lon at Music Hall that he was obliged to ignore the overflow meetings, and make a quick jump to Covington.

The Music Hall meeting, the first on the programme, developed an attempt to break up the affair. Whether it was deliberately planned did not appear. The

Having been so well introduced, the Democratic nominee began his speech without delay. His voice was good, and his delivery vigorous, not in the least like that of a physically exhausted man. When he was introduced the first time the cheering lasted eight minutes. During his speech he was frequently inter-rupted by wild cheering. He spoke in part as follows:

"Let me call your attention to a criticism which Abraham Lincoln made of a decision of the Supreme Court; and when you read his criticism you will find how far we fall short of his in criticism, and yet there are good people in this country to-day who think that Abraham Lincoln was not only a great man, but a good man, and we patriot. "Here is his language in June, 1857: We believe as much as Judge Douglas, perhaps more, he added parenthetically, in obedience to and respect for the judicial department of the government. But we think that the Dred Scott decision was erroneous. We know that the court that made it has often overruled its own decisions, and we shall do what we can to have it overrule this."

"My friends, the position taken by Abraham Lincoln is exactly the position which we take to-day. (Applause.) We expect that in this nation it will some time be possible to make wealth bear its share of the burdens of government. (Great applause.)

RAILWAY OPPOSITION. Mr. Bryan then went on to state the eason for the opposition of some of the ailroad presidents to the Chicago plat form, and also said: "We are opposing the railroad presidents to the Chicago platform, and also said: "We are opposing the st gold standard. We have commenced a war against it. It is a war of extermination. We ask no quarter and we give no quarter." (Mr. Bryan was here greeted with rounds of applause.) Mr. Bryan then re rised his familiar arguments in relation the merits of the gold standard, as compared with bimetallism.
After his Cincinnaid speech Mr. Bryan left at once for Covington, Ky., and spoke there for forty minutes to 8.00 people.

The weather conditions were most favorable, but only 3,955 paid entrance fees to the grounds.

Captain Tebesia sprained his back badly while at the bat in the second inning, and retired from the game. He suffered intensely, and may not play again for some days. McGraw also left the game in its early stage. He was not strong enough to stand the nerve-racking strain.

The Baltimoreaus played with confidence and dash, and in two innings hammered Young freely. Heffer, on the other hand, was invincible.

Five scattered hits were Cleveland's total. Two of them, a single and a double, came in the sixth inning, and gave the Spiders their only run.

Both teams were effectively welcomed when they came on the field, the visitors being the more warmly received.

Tebeau announced at the grounds that Cuppy would certainly be up for to-morrow's battle. Hanlon would not commit himself, but Corbett is his probable zelection. Score:

Stone, of Missouri, has been of ered a place in Bryan's Cabinet, shound be elected. It says this was the causer Governor Stone's withdrawal in favor of Governor Stone's withdrawal in favor of Vest in the race for United States Senator. Continuing, the article says: "A close personal and political friend, who has the reputation of enjoying the Governor's confidence, says that Missour's Chief Executive has been offered and already accepted the proffer of the secretaryship of the interior in the event of Mr. Bryan's election. This story has a much more substantial quality than mere rumor. It is supposed to be based on a thorough knowledge of the relations between Bryan and Stone, and an admission which apparently came direct from the Governor is a somewhat roundabout fashion."

NOLAN AT KEY WEST.

His Arrest Caused a Quarrel Between Lee and Weyler.

KEY WEST, FLA., October 2.-Th teamer Mascott arrived from Habana between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning having on board twenty-eight passengers and among them was Samuel and among them was Samuel T. Tolan, who was arrested from an American steamer in Habana, and whose arrest caused a quarrel between Generals Lee and Weyler. He is on his way to Wasalington, where he will lay his case before the State Department. He states that he will make a claim for $10,000 damages. Passengers report rumors in Habana that Maceo, in his attack on the trocha last Friday, used dynamite guns, with terrible effect. The Spanish loss is placed at 1,600. The part of the trocha attacked was completely demolished. Many small skirmishes are reported. Maceo's victory has completely upset Weyler. Nothing more is heard of his taking the field in person.

The ordinance was read and the first matter to be decided was whether or not the City Engineer should be invited before the body to give his views as to the best route for the brack as to the best route for the Traction Company to operate upon from Broad street to Hellywood Cemetery. The Board finally, on motion of Mr. Starke, sarreed to have Colonel Cutshaw appear and state his position in reference to this proposed line.

COLONEL CUTSHAW'S VIEWS. The City Engineer, who happened to be in the building at the time, was soon before the Board and made a statement regarding the question to be considered. He said he had not followed the lines of the proposed route since it was dis-cussed in the Street Committee, and was not, therefore, in a position to argue the matter from a thorough standpoint. preferred Laurel street to First. The Engineer stated that his opinion was that this road should not cross Linden street, because of the funeral processions which traversed that thoroughfare, and that it should not go up Cary street, for the reason that Cary street was only one block from the Main-street line, and therefore not needed, and that a great deal of hauling was now being done on Cary street. The proposed new line would interfere with the latter, and would would intersee with the latter, and would have be of no advantage to the citizens on that thoroughfare. ral ordinance.

Judge L. L. Lewis made a strong speech in behalf of the property-owners opposed to the adoption of the ordinance. He advocated the Laurel-street line as advantageous to all parties interested, and First street.

AN AMENDMENT OFFERED,

After a great deal of discussion on the part of the counsel representing the opposing sides, Mr. Hardwicke, of Jefferson Ward, offered an amendment providing that the line should extend down Laurel to Cherry and so on just as the present horse-car line to Hollywood does. Mr. John Skelton Williams, president of the Traction Company, was then allowed the privilege of the floor, and spoke most earnestly and forcibly in favor of the granting of the right of way on First street. He presented several petitions from citizens asking for the adoption of who stated that three of the persons named in Mr. Williams's petition did not now live on First street.

President Turpin advocated the adoption of the measure, and spoke of the generosity of the old company in offering to let the new company run upon Laurel street as most remarkable, lnasmach as the Richmond Rallway and Electric Company's franchise upon that thoroughfare expired in 190.

Speeches were made by Messrs, Allen (chairman of the Committee on Streety, Cutchins, Carter, Noble, and Burton, and the Board, at 11:20 o'clock, concurred in the ordinance as it came from the Committee on Streety, Cutchins, Carter, Noble, and Burton, and the Board, at 11:20 o'clock, concurred in the ordinance as it came from the Committee on Streety, Wester, Hardwicke and Burton, respectively. GRADES NOT TOO STEEP.

Mr. King asked as to the danger which is would probably result from the steep grades on Madison street, to which Colonel Cutshaw replied that those grades were not as severe as those on Seventh or on Main streets. It was true, said Colonel Cutshaw, that Madison street was not as wide as First street, but it was as broad as Bank street, and could be very well utilized by the Traction Company. In reply to a question by Mr. Cutchins as to the width of Madison and First streets, Colonel Cutshaw said First street was about $3 or $6$ feet, while Madison was probably $50$ feet at Broad.

Mr. Noble asked Colonel Cutshaw as to the danger which would ordinarily result from operating a car line upon a narrow throughfare like Madison street. Georgetown, S. C.—A report reached the city that a three-masted schooner, ap-parently water-legged, is lying near De-bordeau beach. Her foremast is gore, and she is badly wrecked. Tugs left for the object of finding out the particulars, Mobile, Ala.—Edward Murphy, a fire-man of the quaractine station; arrived and stated that the report that a case of yellow-fever had developed on board a vessel from South America, undergoing quarantine is unique and without founda-

Indianapolis.—A mandamus suit will be begun at once by Charles X. Matthews, the Populist leader, to compel the Populist committee of thirteen to again put up the straight Populist electeral ticket which they nominated September 18th, and which they pulled down in order to put up the fusion ticket. The "middle-of-the-road" Populists are mad over the committee's action.

Populists Representation, But Insist That Virginia's Full Vote Me Given Sewall for Vice-President.

The Democratic State Committee held an all-day session here yesterday to consider the matter of fusion with the Popus lists on an electoral ticket, and was in conference with a delegation representing the litter party, but no agreement was reached and the body adjourned just before midnight.

There was little difficulty experienced in coming to terms as to allowing the Populists satisfactory representation on the ticket, but the point of difference was as to whether or not those electors should have the privilege of voting for Watson for Vice-President. The ultimatum of the Democrats was, it is understood, that Virginia's entire vote should be given to Bryan and Sewail. Upon the acceptance of this depends the question of fusion.

HAD A FULL MEETING. Chairman J. Taylor Ellyson presided over the meeting, which opened at noon, and there were present or represented by proxy the following members: First District-Dr. W. D. Quesenbery,

C. B. Jones, and J. Boyd Sears. Second District-J. T. Duke, represented by R. C. Marshall; C. F. Day, represented by E. Thompson, Jr., who also represented himself; Dr. J. F. Bryant, and W. J. Stores.

by A. H. Williams, who also represented Tenth District-Joseph Button, W. E. Allen, represented by Edward Echols; E. W. Hubard, represented by H. D. Flood, and A. W. Finch, whose proxy was held by Mr. Button.

In addition to these there were present Messrs. John Lamb. Sidney P. Epes, and John F. Rixey, candidates for Congress, and Electors J. W. Marshall. A. P. Staples, and C. W. Wallace, Jr.

THE POPULIST COMMITTEE.

The Populist State Committee was represented by Chairman J. Haskins Hotson, Senator W. H. Hale, Captain Edmond R. Cocke, and Messrs, J. M. Gregory, H. A. Muller, and J. W. Me-Gavock These gentlemen, by direction of their State Committee, submitted a proposition looking to giving their party a certain number of electors, who should be privi-leged to vote for Watson for Vice-President. The matter was talked over in-formally, and after a pleasant conference the Populist representatives withdrew and repaired to their rooms at Murphy's It was apparent from the start that the
